Faction Information

Example Starting Companies

These are just examples, you do not have to use one of the options on the page, you can create whatever combination you like as long as it does not breach any restrictions.

Reinforcements

When buying reinforcements, always check that doing so will not break any squad restrictions. Also remember to subtract your gold, and update the total points value of your squad.

Promotions

Each faction should have its promotions clearly defined on the info page, but even without that they should be easy enough to follow using the colours on the unit detail page.

Relevant Models

If I come across any interesting models that would do a good job of representing one or more of the units in your faction, I will try and add a link to them in this section.
